THE CITY OF KIRKLAND QUALIFIES FOR AN ESTIMATED $ 178,760 IN 1992 KING COUNTY CONSORTIUM CDBG FUNDS,
 WHICH WILL BE AVAILABLE JANUARY 1, 1992

Please check one.

Our City does not elect to receive the above estimated pass-through. Please return it to the County and Small Cities fund. We will compete for CDBG funding for our proposed project(s) through that fund.

- or -

Our City accepts the above estimated pass-through, and encloses the Local Program Policies that will guide the allocation of these funds. Our City has held at least one public meeting before adopting these Local Program Policies.

Cities which accept the pass-through should complete the following if applicable:

We would like to be able to allocate $ 34,887 00 of our pass-through to public (human) service activities, if possible.

We would like to be able to allocate $ 2,000 00 of our pass-through to planning and administration activities, if possible.

We would like our City's residents to be able to participate in King County's housing repair programs. Therefore, we will allocate $ 60,000 00 of our pass-through for housing repair, understanding that 17% will be used for program delivery costs.

We would like to contribute our share of the Program Income from the Community Development Interim Loan (CDIL) program ($ 9,367 00) to address the needs of the Consortiumwide emergency shelter system and other one-time-only projects. We understand that these funds will be balanced between the east and south parts of the Consortium.

CITY OF KIRKLAND

1992 Community Development Block Grant Local Program Policies

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

The City of Kirkland is located along the northeastern shore of Lake Washington, encompassing 10.3 square miles. The 1990 Federal census estimated the City's population as 40,050. The City estimates that 12,500 individuals are classified as low/moderate income. Kirkland has well-established residential areas, since it has been incorporated since 1905. Commercial activities in the central business district, outlying neighborhood commercial centers, and commercial/industrial parks continue to expand.

Kirkland has an extensive parks system with over 28 percent of its 5.8 miles of Lake Washington shoreline in public ownership. Park usage has increased dramatically with an ever-increasing demand for baseball fields and waterfront facilities. Prior to the annexation of Rose Hill and Lower Juanita in 1988, the City of 19,430 had 210 acres of park land in a 6.3 square mile area. The 16,360 citizens added in the 1988 annexation had only 39 acres of park land in the 4.0 square miles of land, or about one quarter the per capita acreage of the residents of the older city. This acute park deficiency in the newly annexed areas is reflected also in a deficiency of public walkways, storm drainage, and other public facilities.

NEEDS ASSESSMENT:

The areas annexed in 1988 have a deficiency of public sidewalks, storm drainage, parks, and other public facilities. The City has begun to address these concerns through the Capital Improvement Program and Parks Bond fund. To the extent capital projects are in block grant eligible service areas, block grant funding will be considered as an additional resource to meet these needs.

The need for affordable housing is an increasing issue in Kirkland as in all of the Eastside cities. The City has attempted to address this concern through contributing block grant funds to consortium administered housing repair programs. From July 1988 to December 31, 1989, Kirkland residents received $54,908 in consortium housing repair loans and grants.

The City's Human Service needs mirror the findings of Eastside Work Group Group of the Human Service Roundtable. Their 1988 report detailed five high priority service needs:

Child Care

Limited affordable, quality day care and subsidies for low-income families

Youth

Increasing need for resources and services related to youths, pregnancy, substance abuse, school dropout, unemployment, mental health, and physical/sexual abuse by others, with particular emphasis on the needs of minority youth

Family Support

The need for services supporting the families of single women with children or dependent parents, families experiencing domestic violence or substance abuse, minority families, and the elderly, disabled, or frail

Health Care

Lack of health services for working poor not qualifying for public assistance or able to purchase services

Housing

The acute need for subsidized, affordable, and specialized housing

PROGRAM POLICIESCapital Projects

The City has been improving its pedestrian network by constructing sidewalks which link neighborhoods to essential public services and the Central Business District. The City places a high priority on creating linkages between low/moderate income neighborhoods and essential public services and will continue to use CDBG funds to help accomplish this goal. The City will also consider using CDBG funds to rebuild the City's deteriorating infrastructure, improve its park and recreational facilities to serve low and moderate income populations, and improve handicapped access to City facilities.

Public Services

Projects should provide essential public services to low- and moderate-income persons which address the priority service needs.

Housing

Projects will be encouraged which lead to preservation or expansion of housing occupied by low- and moderate-income residents. The City will continue its contribution to the Consortium Housing Repair Program in an effort to address this need as well.

Planning and Administration

Funds will be used for staff support to plan and manage the City's CDBG program.

Funding Policies

- 1) To ensure maximum cost effectiveness, public service dollars will be allocated in increments of not less than $1,500.
- 2) In addressing the needs of its low- and moderate-income citizens, the City also realizes that there are regional needs that cut across all jurisdictions within the Consortium. The City should continue in 1992 to address the funding of regional and subregional systems. The Cities of Kirkland, Bellevue, Redmond, and Bothell, along with King County, will be conducting a joint public service fund application workshop in May. Additionally, a joint staff level review of project applications will be conducted this summer. There is currently no formal mechanism for addressing these Consortium-wide/regional or subregional needs with CDBG money. If such a mechanism is developed by the Consortium in the future, the City will consider contributing a fair share of its CDBG dollars to fund those regional or subregional projects which can demonstrate a benefit to the citizens of Kirkland.

- 3) CDBG funds should be allocated to projects which can demonstrate an immediate need which must be met to benefit the low- and moderate-income citizens of the City. These projects should be carried out in a timely manner. Any projects which are not underway by the time the City develops its projects for the next year's allocation, will be reexamined by the City for possible cancellation and reallocation.
